

An Evening at the Theatre

Take a ten minute walk from Park Hyatt Melbourne and find yourself in Melbourne's East End Theatre District, home to the exuberant Princess Theatre, Australia's oldest entertainment site. In operation since 1854, this beautiful Second Empire style edifice has hosted countless of notable productions throughout its history. Restored in 1989, the theatre is now a major venue for international musical productions, including Les Misérables and The Phantom of the Opera. Prepare for an evening at the theatre by immersing yourself in old world glamour with dinner and drinks at radii restaurant & bar before attending a show.

Melbourne's Visual Culture

Melbourne City is bursting with art to stumble upon, even when we're not truly looking. There are a few ways to experience the visually stimulating hotpot that makes up the vibrant art culture of Melbourne. One of the best ways is to explore the city's laneways, where one might stumble on a mural of a Kardashian or two, and also spot the work of famous graffiti artist, Banksy. Another thing to spot is prolific Australian street artist, HaHa's stencil of the notorious bushranger, Ned Kelly. For purveyors of the refined, a quick tram ride from Park Hyatt Melbourne to Flinders Station puts you within walking distance of the National Gallery of Victoria, an imposingly beautiful façade housing one of the world's finest art collections.

Vibrant Food & Wine Scene

Park Hyatt Melbourne's location puts the hotel in the best position of offering guests the best of both worlds. Situated just a stone's throw away from diverse and colourful Fitzroy, and five minutes' walk from Melbourne CBD, guests staying at the hotel have the convenience of exploring the best of Melbourne's food and wine scene. While Melbourne CBD is dense with sleek eateries, the neighborhood of Fitzroy, Melbourne's hipster district, offers places frequently populated by locals. For those who have spent the whole day wandering, relax in radii restaurant & bar with warm, carefully crafted food while sampling the 'bounty' of Victoria by trying out the great selection of local wines offered at radii, sourced from wineries around Australia.
